

Poetry and Prose

This poem was given to a dear friend of mine 20 years ago when she was diagnosed with multiple sclerosis. Somewhat tattered, it is still in her wallet to this day. We have recently returned from a holiday in America, where, ending up in Orlando, trips to Disney's Magic Kingdom and the Universal Studios were de rigueur. Rides in abundance and, as the wheelchair attendant said, "quite intense" ones at that. Experience proved him right and on occasion we took a rest from "intense" to check out Dr Seuss .

Top of our list of "must sees" during the holiday were the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville (the buckle of the (bible) belt) and beautiful Savannah – Christmas gift from Union General Sherman to President Lincoln in 1864.

All in all it was quite a strenuous journey. And was she ever tempted to quit? Not for a moment!
Janice Collins

Don't Quit

*When things go wrong, as they sometimes will,
When the road you're trudging seems all uphill,
When the funds are low and the debts are high,
And you want to smile, but you have to sigh,
When care is pressing you down a bit,
Rest if you must, but don't you quit.
Life is queer with its twists and turns,
As every one of us sometimes learns,
And many a fellow turns about
When he might have won had he stuck it out.
Don't give up though the pace seems slow -
You may succeed with another blow.
Often the goal is nearer than
It seems to a faint and faltering man;
Often the struggler has given up
When he might have captured the victor's cup;
And he learned too late when the night came
down,
How close he was to the golden crown.
Success is failure turned inside out -
The silver tint in the clouds of doubt,
And you never can tell how close you are,
It might be near when it seems afar;
So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit -
It's when things seem worst that you must not quit.*

Unknown

June

2012

June 2012

The Chaplain Writes

I am enjoying my new environment. The walks through the woods are now accompanied by sun and green leaves coming out in abundance. The season will become even more abundant – though while I am writing this, the temperatures is almost tropical and I have no desire for that to become even more abundant. And yet, we don't have a choice in this, but the abundance is right for this time when we celebrate Pentecost.

By the time you read this, we will have just celebrated Pentecost. It is the feast which is sometimes marked as the birthday of the Church – Church with a capital C, to remind us of the wider Church. Not just the Anglicans, or the Baptists, or the Protestants, but all believers together. Not the institution, but a group of people who together worship the one God.

In the first letter to the Corinthians, chapter 12, we find the gifts of the Spirit, and, if you have doubts about the Helper sent to us and whether his help is for real, look around. Gifts which we cannot acquire by dutiful study but which are given to us for free. Wisdom, faith, healing, speaking in tongues, discernment of the spirits and so on. And with these gifts we have to build God's Church and his Kingdom – here and now in the world we inhabit and not when we get to heaven, because then we will have missed the point. We are called to build God's Kingdom now!

Looking at the world around us, we may get discouraged. The world is far from peaceful and agreement between people may sometimes seem far off, but maybe we need to look a little closer at the people we meet every day rather than at the events in the newspaper! To see the people who are responsible for feeding the homeless, who visit prisoners, who look after the elderly or who just try to reach an agreement without harsh words. People who

(Continued on page 4)

Garden Bring & Buy Sale

On 6th May many brought and many bought ... so much so that the Floral Guild is now richer to the tune of €140. Grateful thanks to all who supported this initiative in a variety of ways, thereby easing the strain on the floral purse strings.

Help Needed

An old priest lived alone in New Jersey. He wanted to plant his annual tomato garden, but it was very difficult work as the ground was hard. A member of his church who used to help him out was in prison so in his regular pastoral letter to him the old priest described his predicament.

Dear Vincent, I am feeling pretty sad because it looks like I won't be able to plant my tomato garden this year. I'm just getting too old to be digging up a garden plot. I know if you were here you would be happy to dig the plot for me, like in the old days, and my troubles would be over. I trust you are keeping well and

Church Council

Those of you who were able to attend the Annual General Meeting held on 22nd April are already abreast of changes in our Church Council (details of which appear on the inside cover the magazine). During the service held on Sunday, 6th May 2012, the Wardens were duly sworn in and the new Council was officially commissioned.

Coffee & Chat Morning

Our second Coffee & Chat Morning went ahead on Wednesday, 9th May. Twelve people were in attendance and this time we had five (5!) men. A gezellige time was had by all, with a tasty lunch provided by Caroline and Jeanet. Thanks to them both, and we will let you all know in time the date of the next get-together.
Pauline Talstra

Service 15th July

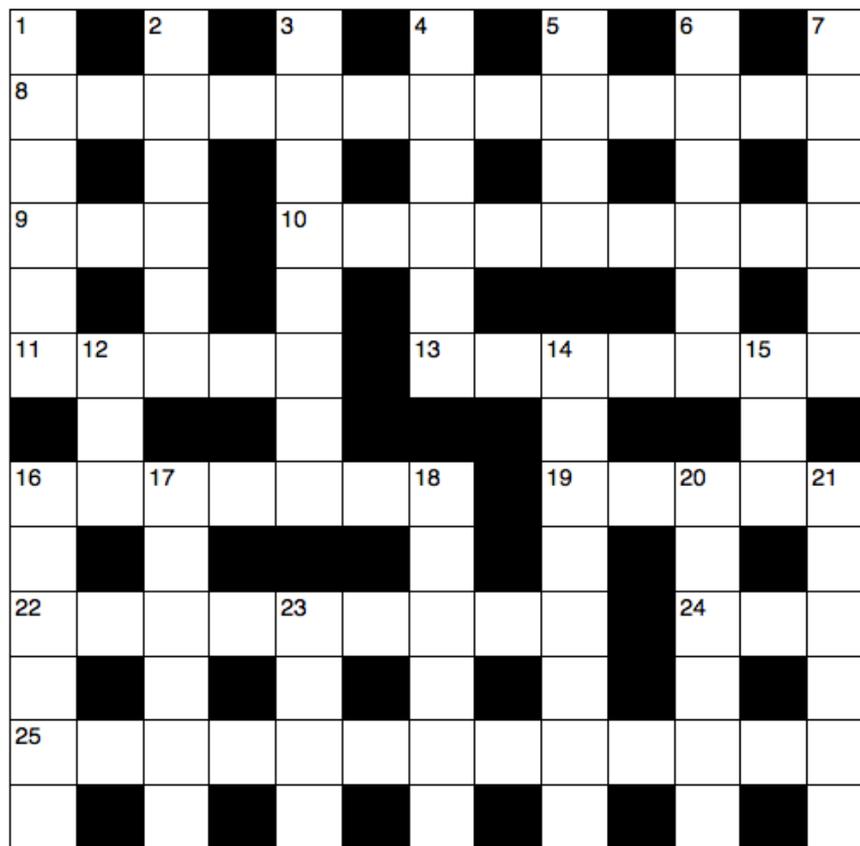

We will be joined by the Wladimirkoor (the Slavic-Byzantine Men's Choir) at this service.

Cycling Tour

On 23rd and 24th June, there will be a cycling tour that takes participants past Weldam Castle and we have been asked to provide (summer) teas on these days. The proceeds will go to church funds. No doubt you will hear more about this event in the church notices.

- 17 "Yet to all who received him ... he gave the right to — children of God" (John 1:12) (6)
- 18 "I ... asked him the true meaning of all — . — he told me and gave me the interpretation of these things" (Daniel 7:16) (4,2)
- 20 Military units (Exodus 14:20) (6)
- 21 "Joseph her husband was a righteous man and did not want to — her to public disgrace" (Matthew 1:19) (6)
- 23 Diva (anag.) (4)

ACROSS: (8) Grandchildren (9) Pro (10) Marvellous (11) Strut (13) Star-tie (16) Babysit (19) Orate (22) Eucharist (24) Map (25) Commissioners DOWN: (1) Egypt's (2) Favour (3) Edomites (4) Thorns (5) Blue (6) Armlet (7) On edge (12) Tea (14) Adoption (15) Lot (16) Breach (17) Become (18) This So (20) Armies (21) Expose (23) Avid.

Times Change

A man is taking a walk and sees a frog on the side of road.

As he comes closer, the frog starts to talk. "Kiss me and I will turn into a princess."

The man picks the frog up and puts it in his pocket. The frog starts shouting, "Hey! Didn't you hear me? I'm a princess. Just kiss me and I will be yours."

The man takes the frog out of his pocket and smiles at it and puts it back. The frog is really frustrated, "I don't get it. Why won't you kiss me? I will turn into a beautiful princess and do anything you ask." The man says, "Look, I'm a computer geek. I don't have time for girls. But a talking frog, now that's something else."

Crossword

(Source Parish Pump, June 2012)

Across

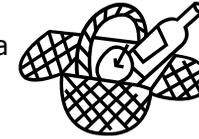

- 8 Laban complained he had not been allowed to kiss them when Jacob fled with his family (Genesis 31:28) (13)
- 9 In favour of (3)
- 10 "The child's father and mother — at what was said about him" (Luke 2:33) (9)
- 11 Swagger (Psalm 12:8) (5)
- 13 "Terrors — him on every side and dog his every step" (Job 18:11) (7)
- 16 Bay bits (anag.) (7)
- 19 Preach, address an audience, speak in public (5)
- 22 Holy Communion (9)
- 24 "On their way to — out the land, Joshua instructed them, 'Go and make a survey of the land'" (Joshua 18:8) (3)
- 25 Joseph advised Pharaoh to appoint these to administer his grain storage plan (Genesis 41:34) (13)

Down

- 1 "Assyria's pride will be brought down and — sceptre will pass away" (Zechariah 10:11) (6)
- 2 "And Jesus grew in wisdom and stature, and in — with God and men" (Luke 2:52) (6)
- 3 The descendants of Esau (Genesis 36:9) (8)
- 4 The components of the crown that Jesus was made to wear before his crucifixion (John 19:2) (6)
- 5 Colour of cloth which was to cover holy objects in the tabernacle when moving camp (Numbers 4:6-12) (4)
- 6 One of the gold articles plundered from the Midianites offered to the Lord by the Israelite army "to make atonement" (Numbers 31:50) (6)
- 7 "The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set — — " (Jeremiah 31:29) (2,4)
- 12 Ate (anag.) (3)
- 14 "We ourselves ... groan inwardly as we wait eagerly for our — as sons" (Romans 8:23) (8)
- 15 Abram's nephew (Genesis 14:12) (3)
- 16 Rupture (Job 30:14) (6)

Ascension Day Picnic

It was dry (always a significant plus point) and not too hot. "And a great way of meeting and getting to know one another in a different setting" was one comment. Our thanks go to Jeanet and her army of helpers who provided the refreshments and also to Carol and Paul, whose musical talents certainly contributed to the lively atmosphere. Ascension Day is a very special day in our calendar, and what better way to mark such an occasion than with our friends from Arnhem/Nijmegen!

Key Dates

23rd & 24th June
8th July to 12th August
15th July

Cycling Tour
Summer Teas
(Sundays)

Wladimirkoor (the Slavic-Byzantine Men's Choir) will be singing at the service on this day

15th July

After the service refreshments in a marquee in the garden of Weldam Castle to celebrate the birthday of Count Alfred Castle Fair 2012

18th September

The next meeting of the Castle Fair Committee will be held on 19 June and ideas or suggestions are most welcome.

Intercessions

If you wish to have someone included in the intercession, please contact the Chaplain or one of the Churchwardens before the Service.

If you know of anyone who is sick or in need of pastoral care, please contact the Chaplain or one of the Churchwardens.

remember you in my prayers!

Fr Louis

A few days later he received a letter from his parishioner.

Dear Fr Louis, Whatever you do, don't dig up that garden. That's where the bank haul is buried. Thanks for your prayers.

Vinnie

At 4 am the next morning, FBI agents and local police arrived and dug up the entire area but without finding any money. They apologized to the old priest and left. That same day the old priest received another letter.

Dear Fr Louis, Go ahead and plant the tomatoes now. That's the best I could do under the circumstances.

Vinnie

College: the land of the midnight sons.

Take Note!

In an office:
*Toilet out of order.
Please use floor
below.*

In a Laundromat:
Automatic washing machines. Please remove all your clothes when the light goes out.

In a London department store:
*Bargain basement
upstairs.*

Outside a second-hand shop:
*We exchange anything – bicycles,
washing machines,
etc. Why not bring your wife along and get a wonderful bargain?*

In health food shop
window:
Closed due to illness.

At a conference:
For anyone who has children and doesn't know it, there is a day care on the 1st floor.

(Continued from page 1)

can be asked for advice because they are wise, people who inspire us because they have a strong faith.

With all these gifts we need to build up the Church, the community of believers, like a circle of friends who together worship God. Who pull us through when we feel not quite so excited about being a member of that one Church. At other moments it is our turn to inspire people who feel less secure about their faith and commitment. Sometimes we can inspire people without knowing it and that is good. Because in the end it is not so much us but the Spirit working within us who enables us to be an inspiration, to speak wise words or to encourage our fellow believers.

We cannot brag about any gift we have, because it is only given to us. Working hard for it does not help, but believing does. Believing that we have really received these gifts and, if we are not aware of our special gifts, that we need to find them. By begging God to enlighten us, to make the Spirit work in us.

Alja Tollefsen

The Cleaning Lady

During my second month of college, our professor gave us a pop quiz. I was a conscientious student and had breezed through the questions until I read the last one: "What is the first name of the woman who cleans the school?" Surely this was some kind of joke. I had seen the cleaning woman several times. She was tall, dark-haired and in her 50s, but how would I know her name? I handed in my

Continued on page 5

Catching Oysters

A story is told of about John Wesley and one of the early Methodist lay preachers, a man with little formal education. On one occasion, the lay preacher took as his text Luke 19:21, "Lord, I feared thee, because thou art an austere man."

Not knowing the word austere, the simple lay preacher thought that the text spoke of "an oyster man". So he spoke about the work of those who retrieve oysters from the seabed. He described in detail how the diver must plunge down from the surface, cut off from his natural environment, into cold water. He gropes in the dark, cutting his hands on the sharp edges of the shells. When he has the oyster, he kicks his way back up to the surface, up to the warmth and light and air, clutching in his torn and bleeding hands the object of his search.

So Christ, declared the lay preacher, descended from the glory of heaven into the squalor of earth, and sinful human society. His purpose was to retrieve humans, and bring them back up with him to the glory of heaven. His torn and bleeding hands were a sign of the value he has placed on the object of His quest.

Twelve men were converted to faith in Christ that evening. Afterwards, someone complained to Wesley about the inappropriateness of allowing preachers who were too ignorant to know the meaning of the texts they were preaching on. Wesley simply said, "Never mind, the Lord got a dozen oysters tonight."

Parish Pump 2012

Appointment of Next Archbishop of Canterbury

Announcements in the Church Times, Church of England Newspaper and The Times began the consultation process ahead of consideration by the Crown Nominations Commission as to who will follow Dr Rowan Williams as the 105th Archbishop of Canterbury. This is the first time the process for nominating a new Archbishop of Canterbury has begun with such an announcement, following changes to introduce more transparency in the appointment of bishops.

The Most Revd and Rt Hon Dr Rowan Williams will be stepping down from the office of the Archbishop of Canterbury on 31st December 2012.

Overheard in an Orchard

Said the Sparrow to the Robin
"I should really like to know
Why these anxious human beings
Rush about and worry so?"

Said the Robin to the Sparrow,
"It may perhaps just be
That they have no Heavenly Father
Such as cares for you and me."

By Elizabeth Cheyney

Salvation is free, but discipleship costs everything we have.
— Billy Graham

To reply to a nasty remark with another nasty remark is like trying to remove dirt with mud.

— Anon

Queen Elizabeth's Diamond Jubilee Grace

A specially-written grace has been released to use at Big Jubilee Lunches this summer. The Grace, made public on Commonwealth Day, gives thanks for the Queen's life of service to the nation and Commonwealth, and invites God's blessing on the food communities and on all those taking part in local Big Jubilee Lunches.

The Grace will be prayed by millions of people throughout the Commonwealth on Sunday, June 3rd, before they share a Big Jubilee Lunch in their communities. It can be used in part or in its entirety. By including words of blessing "on the people beside us", it doesn't assume that everyone will say the prayer, which is said in Jesus' name.

As one church leader said: "Millions of people in the 54 Commonwealth states will be celebrating the Diamond Jubilee and sharing food together to mark this special occasion. Together we thank God for the Queen and for the good things God gives us. Saying the Diamond Jubilee Grace together before we eat acknowledges that God is our loving provider."

The grace reads:

O God, the author of peace and lover of concord, we give you thanks for the Diamond Jubilee of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth; for her steadfast faith and for her royal service to this nation and all the peoples of the Commonwealth.

Bless the food before us and the people beside us; may the sharing of this meal strengthen our communities, and nurture the bonds between us of friendship, hope and trust.

We ask this in the name of Jesus Christ who reigns as servant of all.

Amen

Thank You

It is so difficult to put into words how I am feeling without going over the top. But I am deeply grateful for all your understanding, help and prayers in this very difficult time that I have been going through and the situation I am in.

My faith has been tested and all I can do is to hold on to the belief in a Loving Father God and I as his small weak child that is being looked after and carried. And I see that goes for many people I care about. We are all in God's everlasting arms. I have been able to find strength in my weakness and I have found this in others too. We really can't do anything of our own; we are all weak and vulnerable but God gives us courage and strength in our weakness and when I look hard I find this fact in all sorts of people and places.

Thank you for your support.

Sheila Sprikkelman

Continued from page 4

paper, leaving the last question blank. Just before class ended, one student asked if the last question would count towards our quiz grade. "Absolutely," said the professor. "In your careers, you will meet many people. All are significant. They deserve your attention and care, even if all you do is smile and say hello." I've never forgotten that lesson. I also learned her name was Dorothy.

Contributed by Blair Charles

On a repair shop door:

We can repair anything. (Please knock hard on the door – the bell doesn't work.)

In a farmer's field:
The farmer allows walkers to cross the field for free, but the bull charges.

Time for Prayer

Dear Lord,
So far today, I've done alright on my own. I haven't gossiped, and I haven't lost my temper, I haven't been grumpy, nasty or selfish, and I'm really glad of that! But in a few minutes, I'm going to get out of bed, and from then on, I'm probably going to need a lot of help from you. Thank you! Amen.

People learn something new every day. Why, just today my wife learned that a car won't climb a telegraph pole.
— Tommy Cooper

Bad Day

There I was sitting at the bar staring at my drink when a large, aggressive biker steps up next to me, grabs my drink and gulps it down in one swig. "Well, whatcha gonna do about it?" he says, menacingly. I burst into tears. "Come on, man," the biker says, "I didn't think you'd cry. I can't stand to see a man crying." "This is the worst day of my life," I say. "I'm a complete failure. I was late to a meeting and my boss fired me. When I went to the parking lot, I found my car had been stolen and I don't have any insurance. I left my wallet in the cab I took home. I found my wife with another man and then my dog bit me. So I came to this bar to work up the courage to put an end to it all. I bought a drink, I dropped a capsule in it and was sitting here watching it dissolve when you

St James the Least of All

Beware All Donations!

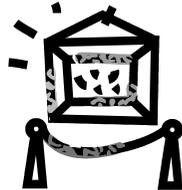

My dear Nephew Darren,

This has been an unusual month: we have moved from hysterical excitement to deep disappointment within the space of days.

For many years, our vestry has displayed an oil painting generously donated by the dowager duchess of Stansby – given to us, I suspect, because her son, the tenth Duke, would not allow it in his house. It was supposed to depict Daniel in the lions' den, although I always thought it looked more like a prospective adopter visiting a dog rescue centre. The dowager was less than pleased when it wasn't made the centrepiece in the sanctuary, but we managed to persuade her that her exceptional work of art would be safer from theft if locked away.

Our cleaner happened to knock it off the wall. If it had landed in her bucket of disinfectant and been totally destroyed, it would have been a sadness I suspect I could have learned to bear. But something more interesting happened. Some of the dowager's oil was chipped off – to reveal a painting underneath of what looked like a cherub.

The cleaner told the churchwarden, who instructed her not to tell anyone about the find. This inevitably meant that, within the hour, the entire parish knew of the discovery of what had already been transformed into a priceless pre-Raphaelite treasure. Our churchwarden has yet to learn the fact that if you tell someone something in complete confidence, they assume it means they can only tell one other person at a time.

reading a book that you have borrowed from me, so there is no pressure.

The titles I have available now are:

The Vanishing Act Of Esme Lennox by Maggie O'Farrell

Sleepyhead by Mark Billingham

Touching The Void by Joe Simpson

I Capture The Castle by Dodie Smith

Good Omens by Terry Pratchett & Neil Gaiman

The Damned UTD by David Peace.

(I do have doubles on four of these).

I was also lucky enough to be sent three WBN books from the first-ever USA World Book Night (2012):

The Absolutely True Story Of A Part-Time Indian by Sherman Alexie

Ender's Game by Orson Scott Card

The Poisonwood Bible by Barbara Kingsolver.

Please see me in the coffee hut if you are interested in borrowing a book and being a part of the World Book Night History for that particular book. I can tell you what each book is about as I am reading my way through them all!

Nicole Barker

Well, they say it pays to advertise ...

Seekers

It was a busy Saturday morning at the supermarket and the aisles were crowded. Suddenly there was a crash as two trolleys collided. "Sorry about that," apologized the man in charge of the first trolley, "but I'm looking for my wife." "What a coincidence," said the second man. "So am I. Perhaps we can help each other. What does your wife look like?" Thinking a moment, the first man replied, "Well, she's 24, tall, slim, sun-tanned, with green eyes and long blonde hair, and she's wearing white shorts and a t-shirt. What does yours look like?" "Oh, never mind," came the reply. "Let's both look for yours."

Growing Up

You know your child has started growing up when he stops asking you where he came from and starts refusing to tell you where he's going.

According to Zen

Always remember you're unique – just like everyone else.

Never test the depth of the water with both feet.

If you think nobody cares whether you're alive or dead, try missing a couple of mortgage payments. Experience is something you don't get until just after you need it.

Good judgement comes from bad experience ... and most of that comes from bad judgement.

There are two excellent theories for arguing with women: neither works.

Philosophical

Jack was leaning over the fence talking to his neighbour Dave. "My wife left me last Wednesday," he said. "She told me she was going out to get some milk but she never came back. "That's a blow," replied Dave. "How on earth are you coping?" "Quite well really," came the reply. "I'm using that powdered stuff."

Need Something to Read?

... Then see me and borrow a book featured on World Book Night.

On 23rd April 2012, World Book Night was celebrated in the UK, Ireland, Germany and the USA. In the UK they celebrated their second-ever WBN and 20,000 readers gave away copies of their favourite book from the 25 chosen titles. They gave them mostly to strangers – usually whom they met on the street – to encourage those who may not normally read to share in the love of reading.

In the UK, each book was registered with BookCrossing.com and given a special registration number. I am a member of BookCrossing, and through the kindness of fellow members, who were also chosen as "Givers" for 2012, I have been able to get hold of some of the 2012 WBN editions, which I would like to share with others in our church community.

I am hoping to get all the 25 titles chosen for 2012, but it is very difficult for me to get these. So at the moment I only have six of the 25 chosen titles available for anyone to borrow. All I ask is that you return the book to me after reading it and tell me what you think of it, so that I can add your book review to the BookCrossing history of the book you have read. You are, of course, very welcome to go to the BookCrossing site yourself, enter the special BCID number (which is written inside each book), and write the review yourself. You may do it anonymously if you wish. If you do not want to do that, then I can enter the review for you in your own words – as few or as many words as you like. It can just be "I liked the book" or "I didn't like this book", if that is all you want to say!! You may, of course, take your time

By evening, mutually opposed camps had already formed. Miss Timmins wanted the treasure to be placed in a side chapel, as a shrine, preferably with candles permanently burning beside it. She envisaged St James the Least becoming a place of pilgrimage, and that this yet-to-be revealed cherub might work miracles of healing. She was already asking for opinions about where the car park should be built to cater for the thousands of tourists who would soon be flocking here. Another group wanted to sell it as soon as possible and use the money to repair our church tower. A third group insisted the fortune it would raise be given to African missionaries. Meanwhile, the tenth Duke was consulting his solicitors to see how he might get the canvas back to his castle.

We compromised by getting the thing X-rayed, to see what work of art lay underneath. It turned out to be by a local artist who had painted an advert for the village pharmacist to sell his own brand of gripe water.

Shrines, towers and good deeds were quietly forgotten and the last we heard of the tenth Duke was that he was consulting a second set of solicitors to see if he could get out of paying the first set for the work they had done to retrieve the painting.

Your loving uncle,
Eustace

© The Revd Dr Gary Bowness

Suppose you were an idiot, suppose you were a member of congress
... but then I repeat myself.

Mark Twain

showed up and drank the whole thing! But enough about me, how's your day going?"

Over and Out

The train was full of tired commuters wending their way home after a busy working day in London. Just then one young man hauled out his mobile and tapped in a number. "Hallo darling, it's Peter. I'm on the train. Yes, I know it's the 7.30 not the 4.30 but I had a long meeting. No, not with that new girl from the typing pool, with the director. No darling, you're the only one in my life – yes, I'm sure, cross my heart." And so it went on ... and on ... and on – until finally the young woman sitting opposite, driven beyond endurance, called out at the top of her voice, "Hey, Peter, when are you going to turn that wretched phone off and join me on the sofa?"

10th June	Celebrant & Preacher	Revd Alja Tollefsen
First Sunday after Trinity	Duty Warden	Everhard Ottens
	Intercessor	Everhard Ottens
	First Reading Blair Charles	Genesis 3:8-15
10:30 am Sung Eucharist	Second Reading Simone Yallop	2 Corinthians 4:13-5:1
	Gospel	Mark 3:20-35

17th June	Celebrant & Preacher	Revd Alja Tollefsen
Second Sunday after Trinity	Duty Warden	Everhard Ottens
	Intercessor	Pauline Talstra
	First Reading Jeanet Luiten	Ezekiel 17: 22-24
10:30 am Sung Eucharist	Second Reading Victor Pirenne	2 Corinthians 5: 6-17
	Gospel	Mark 4: 26-34

24th June	Celebrant & Preacher	Revd Alja Tollefsen
Third Sunday after Trinity	Duty Warden	Joyce Wigboldus
	Intercessor	Joyce Wigboldus
	First Reading Elizabeth vd Heide	Job 38: 1-11
10:30 am Sung Eucharist	Second Reading Maureen vd Heide	2 Corinthians 6:1-13
	Gospel	Mark 4: 35-41

1st July	Celebrant & Preacher	Revd Alja Tollefsen
Fourth Sunday after Trinity	Duty Warden	Joyce Wigboldus
	Intercessor	Everhard Ottens
	First Reading Elizabeth vd Heide	Lamentations 2:22-33
10:30 am Sung Eucharist	Second Reading Maureen vd Heide	2 Corinthians 8:7-24
	Gospel	Mark 5: 21-43

8th July	Celebrant & Preacher	Revd Alja Tollefsen
Fifth Sunday after Trinity	Duty Warden	Everhard Ottens
	Intercessor	Jeanet Luiten
	First Reading Simone Yallop	Ezekiel 2:1-5
10:30 am Sung Eucharist	Second Reading Els Ottens	2 Corinthians 12:2-10
	Gospel	Mark 6: 1-13

15th July	Celebrant & Preacher	Revd Alja Tollefsen
Sixth Sunday after Trinity	Duty Warden	Joyce Wigboldus
	Intercessor	Caroline Siertsema
	Arjen Haffmans	Amos 7:7-15
10:30 am Sung Eucharist	Hans Siertsema	Ephesians 1: 3-14
	Gospel	Mark 6 14-29